DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 13, 27, 28, and 31-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kawata (US 4,615,364).

Regarding claims 13, 31, and 33, Kawata discloses a developer container including a storing member (22) for storing powder, the part of the container between reference numerals 233 and 234 in figure 2(a) reads on a mouth member having a developer outlet, for example opening (231), from which developer is discharge, and cover (32), see fig. 6, is a shutter member for closing the developer outlet when the shutter member (32) is fitted to the developer outlet, the shutter member (32) being connected to the container in both an open and closed position, where the storing member (22) is provided with a tapered portion, the slanted portion near the lead line to reference numeral 21, and the mouth member is provided at a tip of the tapered portion, and wherein the developer outlet is formed at an angle to the direction of gravity, as shown by figure 6.

Regarding claim 27, spring (34) is a member attached to the shutter member (32) and configured to move the shutter member (32). The shutter (32) and spring (34) are provided completely outside of the mouth member, as shown by figure 6(b).

Art Unit: 2852

Regarding claim 28 and 32, Kawata discloses an electrostatic reproducing apparatus, which is an image forming apparatus, and must include an image carrier in order to operate.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 19, 20, 22, 24-26 are allowed.

Claims 15 and 16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
